Pupil Privacy Notice

You have a legal right to be informed about how our school uses any personal information that we hold about you. To comply with this, we provide a 'privacy notice' to you where we are processing your personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about you.

The contact details for the school are as follows:

The school's data protection officer is:

The Personal Data We Hold

We hold some personal information about you to make sure we can help you learn and look after you at school.

For the same reasons, we get information about you from some other places too – like other schools, the local council and the government.

This information includes:

- Your contact details
- Your test results
- Attendance information (such as sessions attended, number of absences and absence reasons)
- Characteristics (such as ethnicity, language, nationality, and free school meal eligibility)
- Photographs
- Special educational needs information

Why We Use This Data

We use this data to help run the school, including to:

- check how you're doing in exams and work out whether you or your teachers need any extra help
- look after your wellbeing
- assess the quality of our services
- fulfil our contractual and other legal obligations
- provide additional activities, for example, vocational provision and challenge learning
- get in touch with you and your parents when we need to

Our legal basis for using this data

We will only collect and use pupil information when the law allows us to. Most often, we will use your information where:

- We need to comply with the law
- We need to use it to carry out a task in the public interest (in order to provide you with an education)

Sometimes, we may also use the personal information where:

- You, or your parents/carers have given us permission to use it in a certain way
- We need to protect your interests (or someone else's interest)

Where we have got permission to use your data, you or your parents/carers may withdraw this at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for permission, and explain how to go about withdrawing consent.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using the information overlap, and there may be several grounds which mean we can use the data.

Collecting this Information

While in most cases you, or your parents/carers, must provide the personal information we need to collect, there are some occasions when you can choose whether or not to provide the data.

We will always tell you if it's optional. If you must provide the data, we will explain what might happen if you don't.

How we store this data

We have an Information Management Handbook which sets out how long we must keep information about pupils.

Who We Share Your Information With

We routinely share pupil information with:

- schools that you attend after leaving us
- Post 16 organisations that you attend after leaving us
- our local authority
- your family and representatives
- professional bodies
- the Department for Education (DfE)
- external agencies such as police forces and the NHS

Why We Share Your Information

We do not share information about you with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

We share your data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring.

Data Collection Requirements

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education (for example; via the school census) go to:

<https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

Youth Support Services

Once you reach the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information about you to our local authority and/or provider of youth support services as it has legal responsibilities regarding the education or training of 13-19 year-olds.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- youth support services
- careers advisers

Your parents/carers, or you once you're 16, can contact our data protection officer to ask us to only pass your name, address and date of birth to their local authority or provider of youth support services.

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

We are required to provide information about you to the Department for Education (a government department) as part of data collections such as the school census.

Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database, which is managed by the Department for Education and provides evidence on how schools are performing. This, in turn, supports research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information it holds is collected securely from schools, local authorities, exam boards and others.

The Department for Education may share information from the database with other organisations which promote children's education or wellbeing in England. These organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use your data.

You can find more information about this on the Department for Education's webpage on how it collects and shares research data.

You can also contact the Department for Education if you have any questions about the database.

How to access personal information we hold about you

You can find out if we hold any personal information about you, and how we use it, by making a 'subject access request', as long as we judge that you can properly understand your rights and what they mean.

If we do hold information about you, we will:

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding and using it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you or your parents
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know if we are using your data to make any automated decisions (decisions being taken by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- Give you a copy of the information

You may also ask us to send your personal information to another organisation electronically in certain circumstances.

If you want to make a request please contact:

Nicki Hayward (Information Manager) nickihayward@thealbany.school Tel: 01284 754065
